

For Immediate Release
June 3rd, 2010

Larian Studios Press Release

The Divinity II - Flames of Vengeance website goes live!

Gent / Belgium, June 3rd, 2010 - Larian Studios is proud to announce that the official website for Divinity II - Flames of Vengeance has gone live today at www.flamesofvengeance.com, and features new media and information about this next entry in the Divinity universe.

Divinity II - Flames of Vengeance is the stunning finale to Divinity II - Ego Draconis. Sporting a revised and upgraded engine, Divinity II - Flames of Vengeance adds 20 hours of new, gripping storyline as players lead the Dragon Knight to his final destiny and ultimate revenge.

Divinity II - Flames of Vengeance is an expansion pack for Divinity II - Ego Draconis and requires Divinity II - Ego Draconis to play. After installing Divinity II - Flames of Vengeance, players can continue their role playing adventure from their last Divinity II - Ego Draconis session, or start playing the new content immediately with a custom made, high level character.

In Divinity II - Flames of Vengeance players will explore the many mysteries that pervade the city of Aleroth, lead an epic zeppelin attack in Dragon form, and unfold the conclusions to numerous plotlines as they solve over 35 new and varied quests on a journey that will seek to halt the Black Ring from destroying Rivellon.

Divinity II - Flames of Vengeance is scheduled for a summer 2010 release on PC, with more details about the exact release date to be announced soon.

About Larian Studios: Larian Studios form the largest independent games developer from Belgium. Included in Larian Studios' portfolio are games from the critically acclaimed and award winning Divinity universe, including Divine Divinity, Beyond Divinity and Divinity II - Ego Draconis. At Larian Studios we also develop popular children communities published by various broadcasters and educational publishers throughout Europe.

For further information, please contact:

Lynn Vanbesien, Media & Marketing – lynn@larian.com

Swen Vincke, Licensing – lar@larian.com

Company website – www.larian.com